

The Traffic and Weather stations XM Radio offers are a much more reliable service than I get from my local radio and television services. It's service that's available when I need it and it not subject to the local terrain and geography issues (because it's satellite). This service needs to be allowed to continue at the convenience of its many paying customers.

Thank you,
Brett Walls